ROBERT CLOW SR. MAKES A DECISION

About five years after the death of his wife Sarah (nee Henry) Robert Clow began to think seriously of his wife's dying wish: "Sell out here and go to some new country where land is cheap and keep the children together." Accordingly the following notice was posted.

MOST DESIRABLE ESTATE FOR SALE

To be sold by Public Roup within the Buck Hotel, Annan, on Thursday the 27th of July at 2 o'clock in the Afternoon, if not previously disposed of by private bargain, of which due notice will be given.

The estate of "Land" in the parish of Middlebie, consisting of about 80 imperial acres of soil of first rate quality, well enclosed and sub-divided and in the highest state of cultivation, with an excellent dwelling house and farm stading in complete repair -lying in the immediate vicinity of abundant supplies, line distance only a mile and a half from the market town, Ecclefechan, and seven miles from the town and port of Annan. Very lightly rated in so far as Public burdens are concerned and forming on the whole one of the most eligible small properties in the Southern part of Dumfriesshire. The estate will be shown to intending purchasers by Mr. Clow, the proprietor, and the Title Deeds which are unexceptionable may be seen on application to Mr. Little.

LAND — 21 June, 1837. Annan.

Note: An imperial Acre in Scotland is 23% larger than our acre.

The Robert Clow Family

"The Land", the 80 Acre farm home of the Clow Family for Generations, nestled in the vale of Mean Water, a small hill fed tributary of the Annan River. The nearest hamlet was Ecclefechan, Annandale, Dumfriesshire, Scotland. There Robert Clow was born on April 30, 1787. He died at the home he established when he came to Wheatland Twp. Will Co., Illinois, in 1844, and is buried in Wheatland Cemetery. His wife Sarah (nee Henry) died in Scotland Nov. 26, 1832.

In Ecclefechan, at about 11 o'clock a.m. of August 31, 1837, there might have been seen a middle aged man, Robert Clow by name, with his six sons and two daughters from 8 to 26 years old. They were Thomas, William, Sarah, Adam, Robert Jr., Henry, James and Agnes. The oldest daughter, Helen, was married to a clergyman and lived at Thurso, in the north of Scotland. They turned for a last look at "The Land". There is a parish church near, also the burying ground where Elizabeth a sister, and Sarah the wife and Mother were at rest; that Mother's dying wish had been: Sell out here and go to some new country where land is cheap, and keep the children together." Now to fulfill that wish they were bidding farewell to the land of their kindred and the graves of their dead. It proved to be forever; none ever returned.

But life was young and their spirits rose, they were outward bound; the vast Atlantic rolled before them and beyond was America, the Eldorado of their dreams. At Annan on the Solway by the sea, they took a coast boat for Liverpool, and dear old Scotland became a low lying cloud on the horizon and faded from view. At Liverpool they boarded the mail packet "England", 600 tons, Captain Wait Commander, weighed anchor on the morning of Sept. 1, 1837.

After 35 days living in cramped quarters, doing their own cooking, stifled with impure air when ports and hatches were closed in rough weather, and drinking abominable water, they arrived in New York Bay October 5, 1837. They took passage on the steamer "Essex" for Albany; thence they came by the Erie Canal to Port Gibson, in western N. Y. After the long and tiresome sea voyage, with its crude accommodations for personal comforts, the novelty of sailing independent of wind and tide on the smooth waters of the Canal, and the even keel of the dreamy boat, together with the beautiful scenery along the classic Hudson were restful indeed.

From Port Gibson they moved some miles south to Canandaigua, in Ontario Co., about 30 miles S. E. of Rochester N. Y., and spent the winter of 1837-38.

In the spring of 1838 they rented and moved onto what was known as the old Shaker farm of some 1400 Acres, located on Big Sodus Bay, somewhat east of the center of the southern shore of Lake Ontario. There were good buildings, large orchards of apples and peaches, about 100 acres of plow land, the balance pasture, brush and timber. There were wild plums, berries and nuts galore in there season. It was a romantic place with hunting, fishing, boating, swimming and skating; a boy's paradise. Here the Clows spent six happy years.

There were many problems in farming, chief among them being how to raise Indian corn. Ignorant of the nature of the plant, they learned the formula; to plow, harrow, mark, plant, cultivate, hoe, cut, shock, haul into the barn and husk. They had raised potatoes at home and knew that manure and thorough cultivation produced results. Then why not with corn? They manured and fall plowed six or eight acres. In the spring they turned out furrows some 3½ feet apart, put more manure in the trenches, turned the furrows back, and planted the corn along the top, two kernels to the hill, 18 inches apart. The natives smiled and waited, but a yield of 110 bushels per acre made it easy to sell seed corn.

Mungo Patterson, son-in-law of Robert Clow Sr., tells of his first half day on the Clow farm near Sodus Bay N. Y., in a letter written to the home folks in Scotland. Mr. Clow showed him about the 1400 acre farm, and they saw men cradling oats; there was wheat in the bin, and there were horses, sheep and cattle. Swine were feeding on apples under the trees; in the winter the swine dug beech-nuts from under the snow, then were fed out on apples, Indian corn, pumpkins and potatoes, all raw, and "fatter swine than these I have seldom seen."

Mr. Clow paid cash rent and said he did not expect to make much, if any money. When Mr. Clow counted up his notes and allowing 7% (the common bank interest in the state) for about $1,800, the money taken to enter it, but not allowing any wage for working it, he had just $50 more money when he left than when he came. Labor, stock, provisions, utensils etc were at the highest rate when he came, and immediately afterward came the crash among banks. So he lost considerable between buying and selling.

The diary of Mungo Pattersons states that "We expect to move from here (Sodus) on Tuesday, Mar. 26, 1844." "The Fourier Society has bought this 1400 acre tract for $25 per A., which seven years previous had brought $100 an acre."

"We (Mr. Clow, his family and Mr. and Mrs. Mungo Patterson and son) left Sodus the 26th of March and came to Lyons, N. Y. We intend to bide here till the Canal opens, which event is expected on the 18th of April. We pay $1 per week for a kitchen and 3 rooms."

LYONS N. Y. APRIL 1844

ROBERT CLOW and Family left Sodus, N. Y., March 26 and 27th, 1844 and came to Lyons, N. Y.

The following account of the trip from Sodus to Chicago by way of the Great Lakes is from the Diary of Mungo Patterson Sr. son-in-law of Mr. Clow.

Sat. 6th of April. Took the Ague.

Mon. 8 Ague to-day at 2 o'clock. Very warm weather. Traded chairs for tools.

Sat. 13 Traded black horses for a new wagon and 30$. Robert and Adam gone to Sodus.

Sab. 14 Ague to-day at 10 o'clock, bad fever all day.

Mon. 15 Fine day. Grass growing.

Thurs. 18 Kingsleys folks here. Ague at 9 o'clock.

Fri. 19 Came on board the Zinc Boat Chavels Dominon, last night. Fields and trees green.

Sab. 20 Boat C. Dominon, Capt. Bannam.

Left Lyons about 12 o'clock. To-night we are lying at Lockveil, detained for want of water. Ague and fever to-day. It was advertised in the paper that the canal would be open on the 18th, but by some mistake it happened that no boat could pass till the 20th, and even then there were some of the levels without water. Consequently we were detained two or three days longer on the Canal on this account. 80 boats were lying below Lockveil.

21st At 11 o'clock we move to Macedon where we are again laid up.

22nd Off at 8 in the morning, and between 12 & one o'clock we passed 86 boats from the west, all aground, in the afternoon passed 20 boats aground. Ague this morning at 4 o'clock. Fine weather. Cloudy.

23rd Came to Rochester at 11 last night — left at 3 this morning. There were over 20 passengers in the boat when we left Lyons, Mr. Towers family left us here. Forenoon passed Brockport, a fine thriving looking village, and good looking country around it.

Wed. 24 In the morning we are at Lockport. There has been a great work upon the Canal at this place. There is a lockage of 60 feet. 5 locks in all, one behind the other, 12 feet rise each. Back of that to the westward the canal has been dug out of the solid rock, 10-15 and in some places over 20 feet deep for a mile and a half, or two miles. A few miles west of Lockport came into the Tonawanda Creek, it is a fine smooth level running stream, and answers the purpose of a canal for 12 miles. A short distance from Tonawanda the canal comes along side the Niagara River 11 miles above the Falls, and abides by it all the way to Buffalo. The Niagara River is the longest I have seen in this country, I do not know how wide it is. We arrived at Buffalo at $\frac{1}{2}$ past 3 afternoon. We soon learned that the Steamboat Chesapeake Capt. Kelsey was to sail for Chicago in a few hours. Mr. Clow went on board and saw the Capt. There is just one little room left with 9 berths in it which will suit us exactly. Passage money \$7, ahead, agreed to take it. The Canal boat is brought along side and our luggage put on board the Chesapeake. Buffalo is already a large city and it is daily increasing in size and importance. It has now over 30,000 inhabitants. It is situated at the outlet of Lake Erie and has the twofold advantage of Lake and Canal navigation, and being in a central position with respect to Montreal, N. Y., Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and Detroit, it will doubtless one day become a great big city. A line of Steamboats run from Buffalo to Chicago, one leaving each place every two or three days. There are a great number of schooners, sloops, steamboats and canalboats loading and disloading just now and will be all the time till navigation closes. 7 o'clock at night the Chesapeake set out for Chicago. There is on board I should think between three and four hundred passengers, some from Detroit Mich. Some for Milwaukee Wis. perhaps the smallest number for Chicago. The decks are crowded with passengers, luggage, furniture of all kinds, wagons, plows etc, and about 20 horses. The hold of the boat is no doubt partly filled with merchandise of all kinds suitable for the western markets. At 7 in the evening the Chesapeake set out for Chicago Illinois. Very fine evening, had a fine view of Buffalo when we were out of the harbour. Fine breeze from the S. W., not rough. The hands belonging to the boat are through stowing away luggage in the hold, to make room on the deck. Fever and Ague this morning.

Thurs. 25 Fine morning, all well. At sunrise in view of the woods of Pennsylvania. Shortly afterwards those of Ohio came in view, and at 9 o'clock put in at Ashtabula, a small village on the Ohio shore, (131 miles from Buffalo.) to take in wood. Halfpast 12 put in at Fairport Ohio, mouth of the Grand River, for wood. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon arrived at Cleveland, Ohio. Cleveland has about 20,000 inhabitants, and for shipping it is not far behind Buffalo. The Ohio and Erie Canal 306 miles long, from Portsmouth on the Ohio River, with its feeders or branches of 320 miles traversing along the great and fertile State of Ohio comes into Lake Erie at this place. The Canal is wide enough to allow ships of all sizes to go up into the City. It comes down rather a deep wide valley and along the sides of it are stores, storage and forwarding houses, etc. The principal parts of the city are at the top of the banks, on each side of the valley. We had a great deal of loading and unloading here. Among other things we took on a few tons of coal to burn along with the wood. Boats of all kinds are here, as at Buffalo. We are 200 miles from Buffalo and north from Detroit. Left Cleveland at half-past 7 at night. To-day we sailed from a mile and a half to two miles distance along the shore of Ohio; the banks are generally 10 to 20 or 30 feet high, and for the most part rise nearly perpendicular from the waters edge, and are of a light earth color or else covered with short scraggy bushes. Above the banks at no great distance from each other may be seen a house and barn with something like a clearance behind it. All we can see besides these is wood, wood. So we can tell very little about the great fertile wheat growing State of Ohio by looking at the north end of it from the deck of a steamboat two miles off.

Fri. 26 Left Cleveland last night at 7, and entered Detroit River about day-break, and at 8 o'clock this morning we are lying at Detroit, Mich. Detroit is about 25 miles from the head of Lake Erie and 4 or 5 miles below the outlet of Lake St. Clair. It is a large growing place, but very dirty and the morning being damp and misty made it look more gloomy. It has a safe and commodious harbour and there were no fewer than 10 steamboats, besides a lot of small craft lying here when we arrived. Sandwich, on the Canadian side of the river opposite Detroit is a nice clean village. Two steam-ferry boats run across the river between the two places, every few minutes. We left a good many passengers here, and all the horses but 7. We left Detroit at half-past 10, Canada on our right and Mich. on our left, and within an hour entered Lake St. Clair. We had not gone far when our boat ran aground in 5 feet of water, 7 schooners were aground here before us. However after some guessing and calculating and running to and fro on deck we got off again in about an hour. This is a very shallow Lake and the channel almost invariably alters every season, and has to be staked out anew every spring, the stakes had not been altered as yet and that might be the cause of so many running aground. However we brought an old Captain from Detroit with us who meant to sound, and set up stakes in the deepest water, which might in future prevent such difficulties. There are great swamps around this Lake, many thousands of acres half covered with water, and half with long rushes. Plenty of ducks here near the mouth of the St. Clair River, on the Mich. side. There are droves of cattle feeding on the swamps. Entered the St. Clair River, it is narrow and deep, good to sail in. From Detroit to Fort Gratiot at the outlet of Lake Huron is 59 miles, we put in to the Canada shore 3 miles above Fort Gratiot at 9 at night and took in about 60 cord of wood. To-day was cold and damp throughout.

Sat. 27 Left the wood station about 5 in the morning, and are now ploughing the clear blue waters of Lake Huron, the shores of Michigan in view on our left. Canada out of sight. Between 2 and 3 o'clock passed Saginaw Bay, here for a short time we were out of sight of land. Rather cold day.

Sab. 28 Clear sharp morning; reached Mackinaw at 10 minutes to 10 o'clock. Mackinaw is an Island in the Straits of the same name, connecting Lake Huron with Lake Michigan, 313 miles north from Detroit. The Island is only 9 miles in circumference and contains only 1000 inhabitants. The village of Mackinaw is on a level piece of ground close to the beach, on the south east side of the Island in latitude $45^{\circ} 51'$ north. It is surrounded by a cliff 150 feet high. At the summit of this cliff stands what the citizens call the Fort, which at a distance casts a considerable dash. There being a great many painted posts, rails and gates about it, but upon a near approach we could not see any thing very awful about it. Behind the Fort toward the middle of the Island the ground rises to a considerable height, 450 or 500 feet above the Lake. From off this rise a fine view can be had of both lakes, but we had not time to go up into it. The Island (except where the village and Fort are built) so far as we could see is entirely covered with short scraggy bushes like hemlock or fir. The beach of the Lake around Mackinaw is covered with small white stones (which at a distance look like snow) & sand. The water here is clear as crystal 20 or 30 feet deep and you can see a sixpence or penny at the bottom. The inhabitants of Mackinaw are of three kinds, viz, descendants of early French settlers, Indians and a few families from the eastern States. There are three Indian Wigwams built of poles and rush matts, on the beach just between the village and the Lake. These are the first Indians I have seen. It is said they are very much hurt by their intercourse with the whites as they are apt to learn all their bad habits, such as smoking, drinking etc., and none of their good ones. We saw 7 or 8 of the soldiers belonging to the Fort. The first I have seen in the country. They are very thin looking men with very light blue jackets and trousers and Glazed caps. With the exception of some very ugly dogs we saw no living animal. No vegetation of any kind as yet, tho they say they can grow Potatoes and they have have an abundance of the best fish in the world. Altogether Mackinaw is a very strange out-of-the-way, cold, healthy looking place. 90 miles N. W. from the Island of Mackinaw is the Strait which connects Lake Huron with Lake Superior. It is called Sault Ste. Marie. I may here mention that the shores of Lake Huron, except those near Mackinaw, have much the same appearance as those of Erie. There may be stones or sand in some places between the foot of the waters edge, only it is wilder looking. We saw no settlements all along the shore of Mich. except 2 or 3 fishermen's huts near Mackinaw; nothing but wood, wood. After taking in a little wood we left Mackinaw at half past 10, fine breeze from S. W. during the day. Passed Fox and Beaver Islands, these Islands seem to be covered with short timber, did not hear anything about inhabitants. The shore of Mich. on our left is bolder than those we have seen. It has been a fine clear sunny day; Lake very smooth. At 7 in the evening called at the Northern Manitou Islands, very bleak looking spot. Set two women ashore, what their prospects were we did not inquire into. 9 at night put into the Southern Manitou Island and took on 25 cord of wood. About 20 men have been chopping here all winter for 50cts a cord, the wood sells to the steamboats for \$2 per cord.

Mon. 29. Five in the morning. Fine, clear, calm and sunny. Lake smooth. 120 miles from Milwaukee. We see land on both sides of us. 8 o'clock past some very thin ice which was formed during the night. Same time met a Steamer. Half past 4 reached Milwaukee, many of the passengers and most of the horses stopped here. Left $\frac{1}{4}$ to 7-put into Racine Wis. at half past nine. Left at half past 11 and at half past 12 came to Southport Wis. Some of the passengers and the remainder of the horses stopped here. Left at half past one in the morning. The three last mentioned places are all increasing rapidly in size and importance, but I did not see any of them, having my ague to attend to.

Tues. 30. Seven in the morning, a fine morning. 11 miles from Chicago. The water here is of a light muddy earth color. The beach is low and sandy here and there. The sand seems thrown into low hills half covering some short bushes along the shore. The ground off the shore seems flat and level. Half past 8 arrived at Chicago and stopped alongside Nortons Pier, put most of the luggage in Nortons store, are to pay one shilling per barrel bulk. (38 barrels) Weight of luggage 6410 lbs. Went to the Temperance House where we are to pay $1.00 each per day for bed and board. Stayed there all night.

Wed. May 1. Cloudy, strong west wind, sand drifts in the street. 10 o'clock it rained heavy. We find we can board one half cheaper in the Farmers Exchange, accordingly we pass over the street. At 11 o'clock Mr. Clow, Adam and Robert left for the Fox River in a wagon. Fine evening.

Thurs. 2. Went and saw the prairie on the west side of the city. The Chesapeake sailed for Buffalo at 9 o'clock.

Fri. 3. Ague to-day at 12 o'clock.

Sat. 4. Robert came in the Stage at 10 o'clock last night. They have taken a house at Naperville, 30 miles west from here, where in the mean time we are to bide. It is a very good comfortable house, pay 10 shillings a week for it. Before leaving Chicago I may mention Chicago is the seat of justice for Cook County and is situated on the west side of Lake Michigan at the mouth of the Chicago River. Steamboats pass right up the river into the middle of the city. Schooners and other small craft can go up past the city. Chicago has grown up almost entirely within the last 12 years. In 1834 (10 years ago) it contained only a few houses with a population of about 100, and these consisted chiefly of a few soldiers and traders with the Indians. Now the population is over 8000. Some of the streets are nearly a mile long, lined with stores crowded full of merchandise of very kind, and from what we already know many things can be had as cheap here as in the State of N. Y. Tradesmen of all kinds are here, five or six Churches and an abundance of taverns, a steam saw and a grist mill, etc. There are 150 houses going up just now. There will be 300 this summer. Sometimes 200 teams may be seen in the street in one day, loaded with wheat from the country. Chicago is built on level ground, but is out of flood mark. The soil is a very black loam intermixed with sand, in a wet day the streets are very dirty, and in dry windy weather the sand from the Lake shore and what is already on the streets, blows about in every direction and makes it very disagreeable and bad for the eyes. The water used for drinking and cooking purposes is all drawn from the Lake in large barrels on one-horse carts; very muddy and dirty looking. The water in the river is blackish. One daily and two weekly papers are published here.

Sat. May 4, 1844. At half-past six in the morning, Sarah, Agnes, Jock and I started in the Stage Coach for Naperville, 30 miles west, where we arrived at 1 o'clock. Judge Smith of Chicago, a very intelligent fine old man was the only other passenger. The prairie west of Chicago for the first 3 or 4 miles is level and rather wet, though it has been drained so that it affords pasture for lots of cattle and horses, and an abundance of hay is cut off during the summer. Towards the Des Plaines River the land becomes higher and dryer with clumps of trees here and there. The Prairies are much smoother on the surface than I had any idea of. As we came along we saw some very good looking farms, and likewise wild prairie, which for sheep and walks we think about perfect. The only stock we saw on these prairies was a very few cattle here and there. Some places we could see as far as the eye could reach; without wood. We saw plenty of wild game. Cranes, Prairie Hens and other smaller birds. James, Robert, William and Thomas came at 7 with two hired wagons and part of the boxes, and we went into our hired house the same evening.

Sabbath, 5, Ague to-day at noon. Wet day.

Monday, May 6 Robert, Adam and James gone to look at some wild land south west.

Tuesday 7, Wet afternoon, did not shake to-day but fever at 12 o'clock.

Wed. 8 Robert and Adam gone to Chicago to land office to see where wild land may be had, perhaps may buy a team etc.

Sat. 11 Uncommon rain and thunder. Fever to-day at 11 o'clock. Robert and Adam came home about 7 o'clock at night, have bought a team for $135. They brought one of the wagons with about 1100 # of luggage; got into Brushville stable just when the storm came on. Sent paper home.

Sabbath 12 Went to hear the Presbyterian minister. Felt very unwell all the time, came home and had a fit of ague and fever.

Mon. 13. Very wet forenoon. Chills and fever all day. I am very lean now and so weak I cannot sit up long at one time.

Tues. 14. Fine sunny day. Fever.

Wed. 15. Mr. Clow, Robert and Adam gone to Plainfield. Very wet from 11 o'clock to night.

Thurs. 16. Wet day.

Fri. 17. Forenoon came home. Have been Southeast at an old Scotchmans, his name is Mackey.

Sat. 18. Damp forenoon. Adam,, Robert, William and Thomas went south to see some Prairie land on the DuPage River. There is one 80 lot and one whole section, they are all so pleased with it they think of going to Chicago Mon. to deed it. Ague to-day.

Sabbath 19. Had the Dr to-day, got some quinine and brandy to stop the Ague, and some Sena and salts for physic. Shook at 12 o'clock.

End of Diary.

In their search for a home site they often walked miles, traveling in all directions before they decided on Section 15 and adjoining 80 acres in northwestern Will County, and was purchased from the government for $1.25 an acre.

While advance preparations were made on the raw prairie the men camped on the new land, making necessary preparations for the new life. Sarah, the unmarried daughter, and Agnes, who was Mrs. Mungo Patterson, baked and cooked enough food to last the men for the working week. The house occupied during the Naperville stay no longer stands, but probably it was located on the site of the present Post Office.

The diary of Robert Jr., (Grandfather of Grace M. Clow, the Farquhars, Anne Clow Francis, Helen Crego and Bessie McMicken) states that "July 16, 1844, fetched a load of lumber from Hobson, and laid off the the ground for the house." "Contract for building the house was let to Mr. Lyman for $500." A few days later "put up the stable."

FROM THE DIARY OF ROBERT CLOW JR.

August 22. 1844 Thurs. Laid west end of cellar wall.

Aug. 23 Laid cellar wall.

Aug. 24. Drew 4 loads stone.

Aug. 26 Building wall and drawing stone. Quarrying. 2000 ft. plain fencing.

Aug. 27 Chopping and drawing.

Aug. 28 Thomas and William building cow stable.

Oct. 15 House all sided; discovered water when digging a well of 19 ft. deep; water depth 15 ft. Think it may be durable, at all events be water for 10 months in the year.

Oct. 21 Agreed to purchase 10 acres of Mr. Carman's timberland from Squire Wight.

Nov. 6. Busy lathing the house. About $\frac{1}{2}$ the prairie burned.

Nov. 7 Commenced building chimneys.

Nov. 9. Commenced plastering W. Room. Lathing nearly finished.

Nov. 1 3. Tues. Hard hit by ague, shook 2 hours. Plastering kitchen, pantry & Sarah's bedroom.

Nov. 14. Finished plastering of W. Room.

Nov. 15. Plastering last room, 1st coat upstairs.

Nov. 1 7 Finished plastering kitchen, pantry and Sarah's room. Ague at night, James and Adam got stock of groceries.

Nov. 25. Contracted with Squire Wight for 10 acres of timber. Paid $50.

Dec. 6. Fri. Dull, misty damp day. Rain from N. W. All of us now moved into the unit. John Scott and Adam drew the last of the goods down. We all feel better in being together. Mild snowy night.

Dec. 9. Mon. Clear frosty weather. Settled with Mr. Lyman and Weeks for building house—$675.

Dec. 13. Snow this morning. James making table. The first week in America in which we have not had to pay rent.

The house still stands on the original site and has had later additions and been modernized into two apartments. It has been occupied continuously by descendents of Robert Clow Sr.

Aunt Sarah Clow outlived all her immediate family, and in her last years was joined on the home farm by her nephew, Adam S. Clow, and his family. To them she told tales of the early days, but most of them have been forgotten.

However, a few of them remain in the memory of some of the family. She told of the tall slough grass, a man riding into it on horseback would disappear from view in the tall rank growth. When she went to the woodpile for wood for the stove, a wolf might slink away. Grain was hauled to Chicago. The brother Adam contracted a heavy cold on one of those cold rainy trips. Later he developed what was called quick consumption and passed away at the age of 35. True to the European custom of patriarchal rule, James, 6 ft. 4 in., the oldest son became head of the family. Never married, he was guide and helper to all his brothers and sisters, and his name was always spoken with great respect.

Much of the original land still remains in the hands of descendants of Robert Clow Sr. May it long carry on the hopes and aspirations of its original owner!

FACTS REGARDING CLOW ANCESTORS

Great-Grandfather, Robert Clow (born in Scotland, 1787) established his home in Wheatland on the farm now owned and occupied by the Frank Clow family. His daughter Sarah (Auntie) kept house for him and her three unmarried brothers, James, Adam and William. All are buried in Wheatland Cemetery.

Robert Clow Jr. (born 1819) married Rosanna McMicken, and they lived where Bessie McMicken lives.

Thomas Clow, youngest of the family of six sons and three daughters, lived on the farm now owned by Jimmy Clow. "Uncle Tom" quarried the stone for the house on that farm himself, from the now abandoned quarry on the Sterling Patterson farm, except for the window and door sills, including the pieces above the windows and doors; these came from Lockport. A mason from Lockport built the house. Uncle Tom wanted the mason to carve his name above one of the doors, but the man refused to do this, so Uncle Tom did it himself; the mason's name still remains there.

Henry (Uncle Harry) Clow married Mary (Aunt Polly) Blanchard and they lived on the farm once owned and occupied by the Dale Hartman family. They moved to Cherokee, Iowa, where they lived for many years. Both died there and are buried in the Cherokee Cemetery.

Sarah Henry Clow, wife of Great-Grandfather Robert Clow, had a sister Isabella Henry, and at her death in Scotland her personal belongings were sent to her nieces in America, Miss Sarah Clow and Mrs. Agnes Clow Patterson. The ship sank and lay at the bottom of the sea for three weeks, and then it was raised and the trunk forwarded. Linen articles from this trunk marked with the initials I H (Isabella Henry) are now in possession of great-grand nieces.

INTERESTING THINGS REGARDING OUR ANCESTORS

come from a letter "Aunt Roe" Hyland, daughter of Robert and Rosanna McMicken Clow wrote to Bessie McMicken in 1950.

"Aunt Roe's parents were married on New Years day 1850 by Rev. French of the U. P. Church at the little stone house on the McMicken farm in N. W. Wheatland, now owned by Helen Crego and present occupants are Mr. and Mrs. David King. The newly weds lived at Grandfather Clows until the original house was built. (Where Bessie McMicken now lives). The family at that time consisted of Grandfather, (the Robert who came to America in 1837) Uncle Jim, Uncle Adam, Uncle Bill Uncle Tom and Aunt Sarah. Uncle Adam was sick of Tuberculosis at the time. Uncle Adam and Father (Robert) were nearly of an age. The boys were in twos, Uncle Jim and Uncle Harry (John Henry) Uncle Adam and Father (Robert) Aunt Sarah, Uncle Bill and Uncle Tom. Will (William M.) was born while Father and Mother lived at Grandfathers, and Mother used to tell that Will would go to the hall door and cough, then wait for an answering cough.

Uncle Jim, Uncle Adam and Aunt Sarah were the dark eyed ones; blue eyes were father (Robert Jr.) Uncle Bill, Uncle Harry, Aunt Agnes and Uncle Tom and came from Grandfathers Mother who was a Saxon and was the lady of the big tombstone and epitaph. Grandmother was Sarah Henry, daughter of Dr. John Henry a surgeon in the British Navy, and was kin to Patrick Henry. When "Aunt Roe" once visited in North Carolina someone remarked about how much she looked like the Henrys, and asked if she was related to them.

"Aunt Roe" also said that the "Land Farm" came into the Clow family at the time of the fall of Baliol (around 1315 to 1320) whose cause they espoused instead of the Bruce.

There are no records available of any Clow who occupied "The Land" prior to Thomas, born in 1685 and listed as First Generation in this account.

Items of Interest about The Land Farm

In the summer of 1880 Mungo Patterson Sr., his daughter Agnes and niece Sarah Clow visited Scotland. Mr. Patterson kept a diary and on June 10th they visited The Land Farm. He states they "examined houses inside and out. One new building east of the house and some others. Water power threshing Mill. Saw ancient queer stones, five of them on top of the garden fence, part of one like an old Millstone, found lately; one built in end of Boiler House with inscription on it, corner broke off. Very ancient figures on door head of Cart House with 1714 and one on old house 1735. Old houses just the same."

The following is from the diary of Agnes Hogg Mowat when she and her sister Bella visited Scotland the summer of 1905.

"Bella and I arrived at Ecclefechan, Scotland, July 12th. We went to the home of the Rural Postie, a woman, to inquire where to secure a good Room. We told her we were grand-daughters of Helen Clow Wightman, (oldest child of the Robert Clow who came to America) who with her parents had lived at the "Land," an estate a few miles from Ecclefechan. When she heard that she said we might sleep in her own parlor, where her spare bed was. She served us breakfast in bed, and at 6:15 a.m. we started off with Postie and had a seven mile walk before returning. It was early when we reached "The Land" so the family was not up, but we had a glass of milk in the kitchen, as the servants were astir. Major Irving's father had bought the estate from the Clows long ago, and Major Irving's Steward, Mr. Graham lived there then. We had no time to make a second visit. We rested at Posties till after lunch, when we looked up the only two relatives then there. A Mrs. Howatson (nee Janet Currie) grand-daughter of Clow of "The Land" who was Robert Clows sister, and married the Laird of Cleugh Brae, Satur House, Ecclefechan, Dumfriesshire. Mrs. Howatson was very kind and we visited her till the next day when we drove in a trap to call on Mrs. Dalgliesh of Eaglesfield, a first cousin of grandmother. (Helen Clow Wightman).

At Ecclefechan we visited Carlyle's birth place, tried on his garden hat etc. Carlyle is related to the Clows I understand.

When Alec Boardman and his wife were abroad in 1947 they called on Miss Margaret Clow of Ecclefechan. He wrote "She is about seventy years old and lives alone a half mile from the little village. Miss Clow is a charming person with much of the good old spunk and wit. Her cottage is not far from "The Land Farm" which we visited.

"The Land" contains 177 acres. It is owned by Mrs. Irving, and the family that farms it is called Martinsdale. They have a dairy herd of forty cows."

A letter in 1950 from the above Margaret Clow to Mrs. Mary Clow of Plainfield, Ill. said "The Land" is still in the same hands. He got a renewal of the lease not long ago. but the Mansion and Estate on which it stands has recently been sold and nearly all the farmers have bought their farms. (who were tenants on that estate) The Mansion House is bought for a Young Gents School. Such changes!"

THE ROBERT CLOW FAMILY

Early history of our Clow ancestors is almost unknown to us previous to the coming to America of Great-grandfather Robert Clow in 1837.

However in numerous cemeteries in Scotland inscriptions on tombstones reveal a few facts of interest regarding some generations preceding those who came to America.

Among those buried in Hoddam Churchyard

1. THOMAS CLOW in boathouse of Hoddam, born 1685, died May 2, 1758, age 73. Also his spouse Agnes Young, born 1675, died Feb. 1, 1760, age 75. The above Thomas Clow was the first recorded owner of the LAND FARM.

2. James Clow of Land, born 1716, died May 8, 1805, age 89 years. Also Mary Hunter, his spouse, born 1729, died June 7, 1776, age 47 years.

JAMES CLOW MONUMENT

This monument is erected by James Clow of Land in memory of MARY HUNTER his spouse. She was daughter of Robert Hunter late in Middleshaw and sister to John Hunter late in Middleshaw of Hoddam. She was a virtuous wife, a loving mother, and one esteemed by all who knew her. And to be short, to her praise, she was the wife that Solomon speaks of in the XXXI Chap. of the book of Proverbs, from the 10th verse to the end. Affliction sore sometimes she bore with patience did resign her life to God that sure abode where saints and angels reign.

Children of the above Jas. Clow and Mary Hunter

3. Robert, born 1746, died 1779, not married.

3. James, born 1748, died Nov. 25, 1804, age 56. Married Helen Johnstone, born 1763, died Aug. 1, 1839, age 76.

3. Thomas of Dogslacks, born 1754, died Aug. 29, 1830, age 76.

CHILDREN OF JAMES CLOW & HELEN JOHNSTONE

4th GENERATION

4. Robert Clow, born April 30, 1787; came to America in 1837. Died in 1870. Buried in E. Wheatland Cemetery, Ill. Married Sarah Henry, she, born 1786, died in Scotland Nov. 26, 1832. Buried there in Hoddam Cemetery.

4. Henry Clow I, born Aug. 16, 1789. He disappeared from Ecclefechan in 1810 and was never heard from. However in later years it became known that he married in 1822 and raised a family of five children. His son, Henry II was father of Henry F. Clow III of London, who with his daughter, Nellie, called on Bessie Clow McMicken when she was in London in 1910. Henry III died in Aug. 1921, and is buried in Forest Hill Cemetery, London.

4. Mary Clow, born Jan. 20, 1792. She married James Little. V. James Clow Little was born at "The Land." The home place of the Little Family was built in 1833 and was called Whitehill. In later years Mary Clow Little lived in Canada, and in the late 1880's she visited the relatives in Illinois. V. Jane Little Dunlap. Bessie Clow McMicken visited her at Eccefechan in Scotland in 1910; Mrs. Dunlap was 84 years old at that time.

4. Janet Clow born June 20, 1794. Married ——— LANGDYKE.

4. Jane Clow, born July 4, 1797. Married James Scott.

INSCRIPTIONS ON TOMBSTONES HODDAM CHURCHYARD DOGSACKS CLOWS

In memory of Thomas Clow of Dogsacks, son of James Clow and Mary Hunter of Land. Born 1754. Died Aug. 29, 1830.

Also Janet Thomson his spouse. Born 1768. Died Jan. 22, 1834, age 66 years.

Here lies in the hopes of a glorious resurrection of eternal life, the body of Robert Clow, son to James Clow and Mary Hunter of Land who died Sept. 6, 1779, age 33 years and one hour and a half.

In memory of James Clow, son of James Clow and Mary Hunter of Land, who died Nov. 25, 1804, age 56 years and 11 days.

Also Hellen Johnstone his wife, who died the first day of Aug., 1839. Age 76 years.

In memory of Sarah Henry, spouse to Robert Clow of Land, who died on Nov. 26, 1832, age 46 years.

The above Robert is the one who sold the Land Farm and went away to America in 1837.

Other Clow were buried in Eccefechan Church Yard

In memory of Janet Ritchie, spouse to William Clow, died at Birrens, Middlebie, May 8, 1857, aged 64 years. Also Margaret Clow his daughter who died at Melbourne, Australia Mar. 14, 1858, aged 34 years.

Also the above William Clow, who died May 7, 1859, aged 65 years.

In memory of Thomas Clow, Proprietor of Birrens Cottage, Middlebie who died Nov. 18, 1876, aged 73 years.

Also Mary Burnet his spouse who died at Birrens Aug. 15, 1893, aged 81 years.

John Clow of Castlebank died there Aug. 4, 1899. Aged 79.

Also his wife Mary Bell Currie died March 26, 1886, aged 64 years.

Other Cemeteries in Scotland where Clow relatives are buried are Dornock Church Yard, Tennesaugh's Church Yard and Annan Church Yard.

The Beatties, Curries and Ritchies married cousins of our fifth generation relatives. Some of us have recollections of hearing these names frequently mentioned, by our Grandparents; also the correspondence that went back and forth. Childhood memories come back and we recall that "Auntie Currie" lived at Uncle Tom and Aunt Margaret Clows, (where Jim and Wanda Clow live) she died there and is buried in East Wheatland Cemetery.
